

FARIBA NAWA

Istanbul, Turkey 0 531 857 1771 fnawa@hotmail.com www.faribanawa.com

EDUCATION

New York University New York, NY Jan. 2004

Master's degree in Middle Eastern studies and journalism
Recipient of the Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowship

Hampshire College Amherst, Mass. May 1996

Bachelor of Arts in liberal arts
Recipient of four-year full scholarship
Senior thesis: Afghan Couples in the United States, a study of shifting gender and identity

The American University in Cairo Cairo, Egypt Jan. 1995

Completed graduate-level work in communications and Arabic

EXPERIENCE

Author and Journalist

- Middle East and South Asia stringer for Newsweek, Sunday Times Magazine of London, Daily Beast, National Public Radio, Mother Jones, Village Voice, San Francisco Chronicle, Christian Science Monitor, Agence France-Presse, Center for Investigative Reporting
- Most recent field coverage includes corruption in American mosques, jihadists in Germany, the frontline of feminism in South Asia, spread of ethnic media in the U.S., Afghan mass graves and an investigative report on the follies of reconstruction in Afghanistan and post-Saddam Iraq
- Author of Nostalgia Rice and Homeland Kabobs: A Memoir of Little Kabul in America, work in progress
- Author of Opium Nation: Child Brides, Drug Lords and One Woman's Journey Through Afghanistan, HarperCollins, November 2011
- Contributing writer to anthologies: Under the Drones: Modern Lives in Afghanistan-Pakistan Borderlands, Harvard University Press, spring 2012; Women for Afghan Women: Shattering Myths and Claiming the Future, St. Martin's Press, 2002; March to War: From Day One to War's End and Beyond, Avalon, 1991
- Author of Afghanistan, Inc. and several other investigative reports and white papers on topics such as Pakistan's secret police, reconstruction fraud in Afghanistan and the Green Revolution in Iran
- Opinion writer for the Atlantic, Foreign Affairs, Forbes, Women's eNews, New America Media
- Speaker on Afghan and Middle East issues at university, library, media events, World Affairs Council, and TEDx

Adjunct Lecturer of Journalism San Francisco, Calif. Jan. 2014-Jun. 2015
San Francisco State University

- Teach upper-division university students advanced writing and reporting on community coverage
- Work one-on-one with each student to develop skills
- Introduce students to editors to publish their work

News trainer
Institute for War and Peace Reporting Kabul, Afghanistan Jul. 2004-Jan. 2005

- Trained Afghan journalists, in the local languages, at the country's largest independent news agency, consulting two dozen reporters on the job as they developed story ideas, reported and wrote the stories on a daily deadline in the Afghan capital
- Coordinated 70 reporters across Afghanistan to cover the country's first presidential election
- Taught news training workshops on reporting and writing

Contributing writer and broadcaster
Pacific News Service San Francisco, Calif. Sep. 1991-Oct. 2001

- Co-founder of a monthly youth publication Youth Outlook!
- Commentator for the wire service and affiliated local radio and television programs on such issues as immigration and cultural diversity
- Writing coach to incarcerated youth

English editor and supervisor of think tank publication unit
Sustainable Development Policy Institute Islamabad, Pakistan Jul. to Dec. 2000

- Prepared and edited newsletter, policy and research papers and books, revised scholarly jargon to readable material
- Managed the unit's staff and activities, prepared annual budgets and hired consultants

Consultant for the Mine Action Program for Afghanistan
United Nations Office for Coordination Islamabad, Pakistan May to Jul. 2000
of Humanitarian Assistance

- Edited and formatted the program's annual report and press releases
- Helped organize press conferences
- Wrote articles for the UN's Aina quarterly magazine

Daily reporter
ANG Newspapers Fremont, Calif. Nov. 1997-Feb. 2000

- Covered crime, criminal justice, culture and religion for chain serving the San Francisco Bay Area
- Founded a monthly unsolved crimes series featuring cold police cases
- Wrote up to three stories a day on deadline
- Used foreign language skills to break stories in immigrant communities
- Covered local reaction to international events
- Completed seven investigative projects on topics ranging from low-income housing, diversity in police departments and local bombings

Assistant adviser to student newspaper Caravan
The American University in Cairo Cairo, Egypt Sep. 1996-Jun. 1997

- Taught feature and news writing to newspaper staff
- Coached editorial staff design, layout and headline writing

AWARDS

- PEN USA finalist in research nonfiction for Opium Nation Sep. 2012
- Achievement in community service from Afghan Coalition Mar. 2013
- Project Censored for investigative report Afghanistan, Inc. Oct. 2007
- One World Broadcasting Trust Press Award for “Brides of the drug lords” Jun. 2005
- Overseas Press Club Scholarship for an essay on the drug trade in Afghanistan Jan. 2004

RELEVANT SKILLS

- Public speaking on TV, radio and in front of large audiences
- Fluent in Farsi/Persian/Dari, conversant in Egyptian Arabic, understand some Urdu
- Skilled in radio recording and broadcasting
- Skilled in news photography
- Certified in first aid and trained to survive in hostile environments
- Prolific on social media with a network of 5000 followers on Facebook and twitter

REFERENCES

Available upon request